HOMECOMING TO BE GREATEST IN SCHOOL HISTORYProgram to Start With Big Bonfire Friday Night; Game Will Be
Big Featurepected Back For Annual Celebration

The biggest Homecoming celebration ever planned for the College of Puget Sound will start with a bang tonight at 7 p. m. Walter Anderson, yell king and head of the committee says: "We are going to have the biggest and peppiest Homecoming this week-end that Puget Sound has ever seen. We have received many letters from alumni saying that they will be on the campus for the celebration November 19 and 20. We want every student to welcome the old students back to the new campus. The only way we can build up the annual Homecoming is to make the alumni feel that they are still a part of the school."

The freshmen have been busy bringing boxes, old crates and empty barrels to the athletic field in preparation for the massive bonfire that will light up the whole south end of the campus Friday evening. When the yells and songs, led by Walt Anderson and Meredith Smith are finished, the members of the Logger football team will be introduced. Coach "Cac" Hubbard will give a snappy talk.

After this part of the program, there will be special cars at North 21 and Alder to take the rooters down town for the serpentine and (Continued on page 2)

WILL FEATURE

TO INCLUDE THREE SKITS

Stunts, Songs, Yells and Short
Talks Between Plays

As a part of the Homecoming program, Professor Holcomb's classes will present three one-act plays, Saturday evening, in C. H. Jones Hall at 8 o'clock p. m. Miss Edith Jones, the dramatic manager, is in charge of the plays and has been arranging all the details. The tickets, which are twenty-five cents, are being sold by the Spurs.

The first play is a fantasy, entitled "The Beau of Bath." The time is Christmas eve, 1750. The part of the Beau is taken by Betty Walton; Elith Jones will be his servant and Winifred Gynn is to be the "Lady of the Portrait."

"Copy" is a newspaper story. The characters are all men. The cast follows: Torry Smith, Franklin Manning, Douglas Hendel, John Todd, Van Spenser McKenney, Charles Anderson, and Lowel Wilson. This play is a comedy and contains some very interesting situations.

The last play is another comedy, "In the Spring a Young Man's Fancy," by Will Smith Rouson. Those who are in the cast in this play are Alice Johnson, Ruth Huston, Ruth Long, Billie Jean Lathrop, Edwina Smith, Jean Mudgett, Wilma Zimmerman and Guy Hughes. The play has a Parisian setting and will be very interesting.

Committees for the program are: Stage manager, Gordon Tatum and Van Spenser McKenney; publicity, George Firth; Coach, Professor Holcomb; Properties, Edith Jones, Charles Anderson and Wilma Zimmerman; ticket sale, Crawford Turnbull.

Between the plays there will be stunts, songs, yells and short talks by former students.

COLLEGE WOMEN
PLAN TO DEBATE
B. C. UNIVERSITY

Date is Jan. 14, 1927; Teams to Have Two Women From Each School

The University of British Columbia will be the first opponent of the Women's Varsity team. The debate is to be held Friday, January 14, 1927, but the place has not been decided. As the traveling team will have the affirmative, this will necessitate the teams to prepare both sides of the question, which will be "Resolved: That Mussolini has evolved the best form of government in Europe at the present day."

The team will be composed of two undergraduate women from each school. The main speeches will be 15 minutes in length with a seven-minute rebuttal speech for each debater.

WELCOME HOME ALUMNI

Alumni and Former Students of Puget Sound: Welcome Home! It is the same home, with the same kind of students, now, as when you were here. If there is any difference, they are better than in your day. They ought to be, for you set the pace. We have gone from the "old house into the new," but the same old heart-throbs for you will beat time for your steps in these new halls. Come home again. Make it a practice yearly.

DR. EDWARD H. TODD,

President of the College of Puget Sound.

It is the wish of the student body of our college that every visiting alumnus during this Homecoming season may renew contact with his Alma Mater and feel again that he is a part of our student life. We feel the need of alumni co-operation and a genuine desire for contact with those who have gone before us from this school and with whom we ourselves shall soon be joined through the Alumni Association.

Because we want you here to enjoy yourselves with us, we value your acquaintanceship, and because we shall all work together toward realizing the greatness of the College of Puget Sound, we welcome you, Alumni, to our halls, our activities and our fellowship.

Sincerely,

HAROLD HUSEBY, President A. S. C. P. S.

The Alumni rejoice in the Program of Progress before the Alma Mater, and as we mingle with the student life and enter into the activities of today, we pledge ourselves to greater endeavor in behalf of the College, calling upon the students to join with us that together we may make Puget Sound, always and ever, first and best.

Alumni Secretary

ROBBINS VISITS
GOOD WILL FARM

Mr. Robbins attended the Institution of Goodwill Industries of the Pacific Coast in Seattle last Monday. He accompanied the institute to Vashon Island, where they visited the Rehabilitation Farm of the Goodwill Industries. Mr. Robbins spoke before the convention members there.

As he is a member of the board of trustees of the Tacoma organization, he is greatly interested in the welfare of the group.

The farm on Vashon Island is maintained by the Goodwill and there "opportunity laborers" are employed and given enough remuneration by which they can care for themselves and families. They keep these jobs until permanent positions may be obtained for them by the Industries.

ALUM'S TEAM IS GRIDIRON WINNER

One Logger alumnus is going to attend the homecoming in triumph. That is Frank Brooks, former end on the college teams. His Summer Spartans entered their championship game with the heavy Highline eleven favorites for the short end of the score. Four quarters later the score board registered 27 points for the valley school while the outfit from Highline had earned a huge round goose egg.

Those who know say that this championship of the Puget Sound League which was won by this victory is entirely due to the coaching ability of Mr. Brooks. Congratulations.

BATTIN GIVES TALK

Prof. Battin addressed the Men's Monday Civic Club last Monday evening on the subject, "Modern Banking Methods."

PUGET SOUND CONFERS
386 DEGREES

Since the founding of the old Puget Sound University 386 degrees have been conferred by the institution, up to the present time.

Of this number 48 were honorary degrees, leaving 338 which have been earned by regular work and study in the college. However, only 381 individuals have been given degrees, as five of the graduates receiving honors were given two degrees.

Ten of those graduates who have been given degrees are deceased, so there are now 371 living alumni who have received degrees from the College of Puget Sound.

TAMANAWAS TO HAVE NAUTICAL
MOTIF IN 1927

WRIGHT SELECTS STAFF

Book To Be On Firmer Financial Basis, Says Business Manager

The old familiar "briny deep," and Puget Sound in particular, will appear frequently throughout the pages of the 1927 Tamanawas, the College Annual, as the staff has decided to adopt the nautical motif, in decorations throughout. Preston Wright, the editor-in-chief, has selected his associate and departmental editors, who in turn will choose their assistants.

In order to put the annual on a sounder financial basis, the staff has decided to cut down the material considerably, without reducing the dimensions of the book. This will only serve to reduce the number of pages somewhat, without marring the artistic effect.

A real job is in store for the members of the staff, as they have decided to keep the dedication of the annual a secret until the very day of distribution. Whether they will be able to do this or not depends on the discretion of the members.

The outside photography and group pictures contract has been let to the Commercial Photographers. "Many large firms have bid on the cover and have submitted a number of beautiful cover designs," stated Wright in commenting on the staff plans for the publication.

Torrey Smith, the business manager, has not selected his staff as yet, but expects to announce it soon.

The editorial staff as is stands at present consists of:

Editor-in-chief: Preston Wright;
Associate editor: Marion Gynn;
Administration: Kathryn Hammerly;

Classes: Josephine Day;
Activities: Audrey-Dean Albert;
Organizations: Genevieve Stowe;
Photographs: Marjorie Burrows;
Art: Wilma Zimmerman.

GLEE CLUB HAS SIX DATES ON SCHEDULE NOW

Concerts to Begin Early in February; Long Trips Will be Taken

By Margaret Swanson

The Puget Sound Men's Glee Club has six engagements at the present time. In addition to those at Sumner, Napavine, Randle and Mineral the Glee Club is scheduled for Elma, Feb. 25, and Eatonville, Feb. 16.

Engagements at Mossyrock, Morton, Centralia and Chehalis are expected on the southern trip, which will probably take about ten days. A trip to eastern Washington at Yakima and Ellensburg is planned.

Arrangements for the purchase of tuxedos are being made. The varsity club of eighteen members are being put through a period of intensive practice by Mr. Hanscom. The concerts will probably begin about the first of February, according to present arrangements.

BADGERS BATTLE
PUGET SOUND IN
CRUCIAL CONTESTWin For Visiting Team
Would Dash All Hope
Of Logger Championship
In Conference

Badgers Have Had Bad Season, But Have Hopes Of Humbling Local Squad

Tomorrow afternoon in the Stadium the Loggers fight for victory in a game, which if won will tie the College of Puget Sound for first place in Northwest Conference standings. But this game means much more than that to the Tacoma school. This game marks the first showing of the Pacific Badger in Tacoma in five years. For four successive years the Forest Grove men defeated the College of Puget Sound. Tomorrow 11 embattled Loggers go to meet as many equally determined Badgers.

The God of weather, Jupe Pluvius, wields great power for it rain is withheld and the day is dry the Logger chances are enhanced 50 per cent. On the other hand, a wet day may result in another Salem, which would be disagreeable.

Toughest Battle of Year Expected
Coach Hubbard, as usual, is non-committal as to the result, but is free to assent that it is "going to be the toughest" battle of the year." The players, who are not so bashful, maintain that victory will be theirs.

The starting lineup is the same as against Willamette. At quarter, Frank Gillihan a candidate for all-conference choice will bark the signals. He has shown himself to be a born football player and directs the squad with real experience.

Tatum at Offensive

At offensive fullback Coach Hubbard will play "Red" Tatum, the Red grange of the Northwest. Pacific's strong line will find that they have a real job in stopping (Continued on page 4)

SUBJECT FOR DEBATE GIVEN

Foreign Control of China To Be Varsity Subject

The outlook for a successful debate season this year is very promising. Although no debates are to be scheduled the first semester for the varsity team, the freshmen will take part in several forensic contests. During the second semester, the men's and women's varsities will engage in debates with many of the nearby colleges and the men will meet one traveling team.

The subject for the men's varsity has been decided upon. The teams will debate on the subject, "Resolved: That foreign nations should relinquish all governmental control of China, except that usually exercised by consulate and legations."

The Pacific Forensic League, composed of Southern California, Stanford, Oregon, Willamette, Whitman and California have adopted the same question, and Puget Sound expects to meet some of these teams later in the season.

At first Franklyn Manning, debate manager, planned to use the Pi Kappa Delta national question, but it was refused by so many schools that he felt it would be unwise for the college to use it.

The tryouts for the men's team, which will come later in the year, will be on the same subject as that the literary societies are using, "Resolved: That the Volstead Act should be amended to permit the sale of light wines and beer."

SOCIETIES WILL DEBATE ON THE VOLSTEAD ACT

Debates Will be Held on Dec 6; Each Group to Have Two Speakers

"Resolved: That the Volstead Act should be amended to permit the sale of light wines and beer." That is the question that is to be debated between the literary societies at the inter-society debate Monday, December 6.

There will be two debates in one evening. As the preliminary debate the Philomathean society team will debate the affirmative against the negative arguments of the Altrurian team. The winner of this debate will meet the Amphiction team who will necessarily be prepared to debate either side of the question.

Each society will be allowed two speakers. The time of the speeches will be six minutes for the main speeches and three minutes for the rebuttal speeches.

PHILO ROOM LIKE BABIES' NURSERY

The older and more staid members of Philomathean, as they first entered the Philo room last Monday night thought that they had made a mistake and had gone into a nursery room. A number of sweet, appealing little children occupied a large part of the room. However, by making further inquiries, they found that this was only a group of the Philo pledges prepared to present their first program, "Story Book Land."

Margaret Fitzgerald and Meredith Smith presented the first number "Little Mary Mixup and Bobby." Both appeared in rompers, and it was hard to believe that they were not the characters they portrayed.

"Tom Sawyer and Huckleberry Finn," was given by Clarence Fraser and Dwight Smith, who made the two Mark Twain characters fairly live.

"Our Gang's Orchestra," made up of Frank Rostedt, Douglas Tilton, Earl Swanson and Bob Leatherwood, played several musical numbers, all of which were well received.

Next came "Alice In Wonderland," a stunt by Leona Potucek, Douglas Hendel, Evalyn Dahlstrom and Ruth Long.

"Raggedy Ann and Raggedy Andy," featured Fred Henry and Marie Tromer.

Dorothy Henry, Harwood Tibbitts,

HOMECOMING IS INTERESTING TRADITION AT PUGET SOUND

The tradition of homecoming is interesting when viewed from the heritage of other years. The same pep and enthusiasm characterized the spirit of welcome every year.

The first homecoming ever celebrated as a regular campus tradition at Puget Sound was held in 1923 on October 26 and 27. Friday evening the returning alumni were entertained by college organizations. Fraternities, sororities and societies gave banquets at which their alumni members were present.

Saturday afternoon, in the most closely-contested game the two schools have engaged in during the past 15 years, the Loggers held the University of Washington Huskies to a 24-0 score. The game was bitterly contested to the last whistle, and the Loggers put up a real fight.

The homecoming celebration closed with a student-alumni mixer in the gymnasium. The students put on a program of musical numbers, readings and stunts, which was followed by refreshments.

The First Annual Homecoming on the new campus was held November 14 and 15, 1924. A nightshirt parade featured the football rally which was held Friday evening. This ended at the Rialto Theater, where a special show was put on for the students. An auto parade was held Saturday morning, after which Puget Sound played Washington in the Stadium. The Loggers fought hard, but the heavier, more experienced team from Seattle snowed them under by a 96 to 0 count.

A big party in the new gymnasium concluded the homecoming program for this year.

Last year, 1925, the alumni were welcomed home by a pep rally, nightshirt parade and bonfire, held on Friday night, November 20. Between the halves of the University of Washington game in which the Loggers held the Huskies to a 79-7 score, the students staged a serpentine

ALTRURIANS "PLAY SCHOOL" MONDAY

Appearing before the Altrurian Literary Society last Monday night, the new members put on their first program "The First Grade in School," was sternly conducted by Mrs. Ruth Bethed, having as her little pupils Doris Wilson, Esther Rarey, Betty Anderson, Harold Nutley, Eugene Kidd and Kirk Eads.

They were followed by Wilma Zimmerman who recited "My First Piece," and Helen Graham Johnson, who showed the society "The Art of Playing Scales."

Arthur Hedges and Charles Everett put on an act entitled, "Whose Dad's Best?" Seabon Smith sang a solo, "My First Musical Performance," and was followed by Henry Skramsted, Mae Anderson, Marshall McCormick, and Marion Johnson in "Spending Our Pennies."

Delos Whitney gave his own version of "Mary Had a Little Lamb," and Lewis Jeklyn and Leonard Farstvedt closed the program with "Tricks of Our Twins."

GAMMAS HOLD PLEDGING SERVICES WEDNESDAY

Pledging services for new members to Delta Alpha Gamma was held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mary Glenn 1721 No. Steele St.

The girls pledged were Marie Tromer, Lyla Hulbert, Irene Masterman, Mary Louise McCarthy, Ruth Huston, Theresa Maruca, Mildred Meader and Pauline Voelker.

AMPHICS DISCUSS KINDS OF CASES

Amphictyon Literary Society "Contemplated Cases" at their regular meeting Monday evening.

"The Winding Stair Case" in the form of a bedtime story was given by Albert King as the opening number.

Peggy Campbell "Let the Cat Out of the bag" when she told Amphic members of the animal crackers, gym shoes, corrected French themes and such that are found "In the Brief Cases" of members.

"A Case of Melody," a piano solo, was played by Eloise Sanders. William Law gave a description of a book-case he once made in "Our Book Case."

"A Law Case" was conducted by Helen Sanders, Katherine Reese and Lloyd Dymont.

Evalyn Miller concluded the program with another bedtime story, very fitting for the occasion, entitled "The Eternal Suit Case."

Norman Klug and John Gardner, in a very amusing number, presented "The Captain and The Kids."

Grace Van Vechten gave Helen Ohlson a real lesson in piano-playing in "Dolly Dimple's Music Lesson."

The last number on the program was entitled "The Old Woman In the Shoe," and was given by Mildred Meader, Dorothy Ruth Scott, Betty Pugh and Bob Johnson.

OTLAH CLUB PLANS ANNUAL TEA NEXT MONDAY

Otlah Club, honorary women's organization, will give its annual tea next Monday, Nov. 22, from four to six o'clock at the Women's Dormitory. All women of the college, both students and faculty, are invited.

A program has been arranged for the afternoon. Mrs. Weir and Mrs. Todd will pour.

PACIFIC UNIVERSITY, Forest Grove, Oregon, Nov. 18,
1926—(Special)

With all their hopes of a Northwest Conference Championship in football this year sent glimmering due to the two successive defeats at the hand of the Willamette Bearcats and the College of Idaho Coyotes, the Fighting Badgers are digging into practice this week in a grim resolve to go down fighting and to make the College of Puget Sound Loggers fight for every inch of ground that they gain from them next Saturday.

Disappointing Season

The Pacific squad has had a disappointing season this year.
Starting the year with eight lettermen back for the head coach, Leo
J. Frank to work with, prospects looked bright for the Badgers.

The first game came after but two weeks of practice and the Fighting Badgers held the mighty Lemon-Yellow of Oregon to a scoreless tie. This game showed up the potential power that lay in Coach Frank's backfield composed of Emerson and Frost, lettermen, and Johnson and Tippin, freshmen material. The next game was with Linfield and, playing under wraps, Pacific easily defeated the Wildcats 7-0. The smallness of the score is no criticism of the game as the Badgers ran up about twice as much yardage from scrimmage as did their opponents.

Then came the game which was looked upon as having a deciding bearing upon the Northwest Conference championship, that with Whitman in Portland.

Despite newspaper reports to the contrary, this was a battle from

Some of the Fighting Loggers Who Meet the Badgers Saturday

1—Frank Wilson, hailed as greatest passer in Northwest. 2—"Red" Tatum, the "Red Grange" of the Northwest. 3—Frank Gilihan, Logger's candidate for all-conference quarterback honors. 4—Coach "Cac" Hubbard, who is responsible for Puget Sound's success. 5—Amos Booth, Puget Sound's high scoring end. 6—Onie Hannus, flashy halfback. 7—Dave Ferguson, Logger punting star. 8—Leroy Browning, veteran guard. 9—John Ganera, demon tackle.

start to finish and the Badgers, fighting gamely under a weight handicap, received injuries which are still slowing them up. Johnson, the rook fullback who in this game showed drive and versatility enough to rank him as all-Northwest material, was taken out of the game just after he made the only touchdown. He was out of the game for two weeks, just getting into the game at Caldwell last Thursday for a short period. With Johnson out of the backfield, there was a lack of punch which was noticeable. However the whole squad felt confident concerning their game with Willamette.

Badgers Fight Hard at Forest Grove

The Bearcats brought to Forest Grove a versatile eleven which, after their four weeks rest without a game, ran through the Badgers for a touchdown and a place kick. With their backs to the wall the Fighting Badgers gave the spectators who had gathered to celebrate Homecoming one of the greatest exhibitions of fight that has ever been seen on a local gridiron. However, the odds were too great and the Willamette team won.

On November 11, Armistice Day, the Pacific squad played the College of Idaho at Caldwell. The yardage gained by each team was equal but for two lucky breaks at the start of the game Pacific would have held the Coyotes from scoring.

Horn and Rannow Play Their Last Year

On the team this year are Captain Horn playing guard and ex-captain Rannow playing tackle who will finish their collegiate career on the Puget Sound gridiron next Saturday. Both are big men and fast for their weight. Rannow is making a strong bid for all-Northwest conference honors at Tackle. At guards Coach Frank has, besides Captain Horn, Deck, Oddie, and Hathorn. Oddie and Deck are small men but worlds of fight and speed are compressed into their make-up. At tackles he has Pollock and Baker. Both these men are large and rangy. Pollock especially is a fine player and a fit running mate for Rannow. At ends, Ingles, Elliot and sometimes Pollock will fill the positions.

In the backfield, Melvin Emerson at halfback is a brilliant open field runner and passer and does the kicking for the squad. Frost at quarter is also a versatile player. Tippin at half and Johnson at full round out the backfield with two powerful line plungers. Backfield reserves include Tucker, Holloway and J. Tucker.

PRES. AND COACH SPEAK AT CLUB

Prof. Holcomb Takes Part In Kiwanis Program

President Todd and Coach Hubbard were the principal speakers at the Kiwanis Club luncheon on Tuesday, in carrying out the College of Puget Sound Day program. Professor Holcomb sang several selections.

The President has had a busy week with his speaking engagements. Last Sunday evening he spoke at the Father and Son Night program given at the Bethany Presbyterian Church. His subject was "The World Needs a Team."

On Armistice Day he delivered an address at a meeting of the American Legion at Sumner. "A Safe Democracy" was the subject of his address.

President Todd was also one of the principal speakers on the program of the Student Vocational Institute Day, held at the Chehalis high school, last Wednesday. Other speakers were Mrs. Preston, State Supt. of Schools and N. B. Coffman of Chehalis.

NEW SYSTEM OF REGISTRATION NOW BEING USED

By Tamzan Snyder

This year the College of Puget Sound adopted a new registration system. It consists of having a faculty member appointed as an adviser for each class. Dr. Martin and Prof. McMillan are advisers for the freshmen; Prof. Henry for the sophomores; Prof. Regester for the juniors, and Prof. Cheney for the seniors. Each of these professors has on file in his office the records of each member of the class. On the record are the student's high school credits and deficiencies, and college credits.

These records were not completed when school opened this fall, but will be ready for the February registration. Students should confer with their class officers concerning any problems of their course of study.

KEEP THE SLATE CLEAN!

This fall has seen the first grid campaign of the newly organized Northwest Conference. As a season it has been a success. Every team has played at least two conference games, and some have engaged every team in the circuit. The quality of ball has, as the result of the stimulus of having something to play for, taken a sudden jump and has provided the spectators with real entertainment.

Simultaneously with the formation of the Conference, three of the schools have obtained new coaches, and it was these schools who surprised everybody by the fight and strength that they have shown. One of these, the College of Puget Sound, is battling this Saturday for first place honors.

No greater athletic honor could come to this college than that she should emerge from her first conference season with a perfect record.

One big factor in accomplishing this will be the attitude of the Logger rooters. At Salem the rooting was the best that this writer has ever heard from a Puget Sound crowd. One of the players made the statement that they couldn't help winning with such support.

Members of the College of Puget Sound: Tomorrow is your opportunity to be a part of the victory over Pacific University, or if the Loggers are defeated the loss may be blamed upon your lack of interest. Give them no opportunity to say that. A 100 per cent attendance and SUPPORT by the college is asked.

ARE YOU INTERESTED IN TRACK

All those who were ever interested in track, all those who are now interested in track, even if that interest is only passive, please meet in Room 8, next Tuesday at 12:05.

This call has been issued by Logger track captain "Red" Tatum, as the opening gun in the campaign for the cinder championship of the Northwest Conference. Tatum himself, is a conference record-holder in the half-mile.

This year the Northwest Conference meet is to be held in Tacoma and a win for the Tacoma school will be one of the best pieces of advertising that it could get.

BIG GAME STORY

The blonde speedster's gallops. Hannus, who is the rabbit type of runner, has an astonishing change of pace, and is elusive. Frank Wilson, the Logger long distance passer is a constant threat in that he can pass, run, or kick with equal facility. This rounds out the Logger allstar backfield.

Pacific Backfield Strong

The Pacific backfield, however, is also strong, possessing two men that they tout for allconference. Emerson, quarterback or halfback is a triple threat man. He does the kicking, line plunging, running back of punts and kickoffs, and does a good job of passing. The playing of Johnson, fullback, in the University of Oregon game, more than anything else, was instrumental in obtaining the scoreless tie.

Loggers Outweighed

The Pacific line will outweigh and be more experienced than the Logger forward wall. However on a dry field the fight of the Loggers may overcome this disadvantage. Nevertheless the ability of the Badger team must not be underrated. In Coach Frank they have a mentor that has placed them in the hall of football fame. Their team held Oregon to a scoreless tie and then beat Linfield.

The injuries that they received early in the season have handicapped them, but against the Loggers they will be able to throw their full strength.

The Logger line will have Booth and Ferguson at end, Ganero and Brear at tackles, Browning and Miller at guards, and Leatherwood at center.

NEW WOMEN'S CLUB FORMED

Winners of Letters Eligible to Join

Among the new organizations of the college is one known as The Women's Athletic Association. This organization is for women who have won athletic letters at the college, and is similar in purpose to the Letterman's Club for the men.

The second meeting of this club was held last Tuesday noon. At this meeting Helen Jensen was elected president and "Fritzi" Goff, secretary-treasurer.

This association is composed of five women, Helen Jensen, "Fritzi" Goff, Evalyn Miller, Ina Hagedorn and Dorothy Latherwood. A point system has been planned for earning letters. A woman must have 400 points to her credit to be eligible for membership in the association.

Besides basketball teams, there will be volleyball, baseball and tennis teams. Track events and horse-shoes have been planned for the spring. Points may also be earned by taking hikes.

PROF. TOPPING GROUP LEADS

Y. M. Discusses Race Question And R. O. T. C.

Prof. Topping's Y. M. C. A. discussion group stepped out to the front in the membership campaign. There were 24 present last Tuesday and the discussion of the race question was good.

In the absence of Prof. Regester, his group attended Goulder's discussion, the R. O. T. C. being the question of the day.

The Y. M.-Y. W. party which was announced earlier will be held at the Central "Y" Thursday, Dec. 2. All members of both associations are invited and a lively program in the gym, pool and lobby will be offered.

TACOMA TO SEE PACIFIC BADGERS FOR FIRST TIME

Game On Home Field Gives Loggers Advantage Over Oregon Rivals

The Logger grid machine will enter Saturday's game with the knowledge that Pacific has been the victor each time the two teams have met. For four years the Badgers of Forest Grove have sent the Maroon warriors home defeated.

Each year the contest has been played away from Tacoma, but this year the Puget Sound school meets the Badger on the home field. Besides giving the Loggers an advantage, this game on the home field will also give Tacoma fans a chance to see a game that has in former years, been one of the feature games of the Northwest.

In 1923 the score was P. U., 13; C. P. S., 0; in 1924, P. U., 7, C. P. S., 0; and in 1925 the game ended 25 to 7 in favor of the Oregonians. The Pacific contest, with its shift plays, has been called the Logger's "jinx." This year it seems that the jinx will be broken in one of the hardest fought games seen in Tacoma since the University of Washington-Puget Sound mix in 1924.

WHERE ARE THE RUNNERS?

Where are the cross-country runners? That is the question Mr. Seward is asking this week. Many come to him asking about running the two-mile stretch scheduled in two weeks, but the rain and cold weather of the last few days seem to have a dampening effect upon their spirits. No one as yet has seen anyone in training.

It is getting near the time of the run, and those who intend to run should be training. Puget Sound should make this year's cross-country run bigger than last years', but that will be impossible unless more of the fellows turn out.

A THANKSGIVING FABLE

Oliver Herford

It was a hungry pussy cat upon Thanksgiving morn
And she watched a thankful little mouse, that ate an ear of corn;
"If I ate that thankful little mouse, how thankful he should be
When he has made a meal himself, to make a meal for me.
Then with his thanks for having fed, and his thanks for feeding me;
With all his thankfulness inside, how thankful I shall be."
Thus mused the hungry pussy cat, upon Thanksgiving day,
But the little mouse had overheard and declined (with thanks) to stay.

The Axe--

Well, this is the last time that football may be used as material for The Axe. Tomorrow the Loggers hope to end their season in a blaze of glory.

Last night the reserves ended their season with their game with Lincoln. That the babes have been of value this fall is shown by the fact that several of them are being watched by the coach for next year. Alcorn and Alfred Lewis, tackles, are a pair that may be useful to Coach Hubbard next fall. Don Darrow at quarter and Ed Eddy at fullback seem to be the pick of the backfield.

In addition to its value in training players, the midget squad has done service in learning the plays of the varsity's opponents and using them for the first string's benefit.

The game tomorrow is going to be the toughest battle of the year. Can Puget Sound stop Emerson and Johnson, both of whom are rated as all-conference candidates? We think so. We have a faith in our team and believe that the game, no matter how close and hard-fought, is going to result in a win for Puget Sound.

Instrumental in Puget Sound's showing against Pacific will be the Logger attack, featuring the Maroon all-star backfield. With Ferguson punting and Wilson and Gillihan passing, the Puget Sound overhead attack is conceded to be the best in the Conference. Pacific will not be able to more than equal the ball-carrying talent of Hannus, Tatum and Gillihan, who when given favorable conditions are splendid line-plungers.

The credit for the success of this season should be given to Coach Clyde W. Hubbard and no other. He took material that was not too good and has fashioned out of it a champion contender.

LOGGERS TIED FOR FIRST IN CONFERENCE

Idaho And Puget Sound Lead N. W. Association in Football

The College of Idaho, by their win over Pacific 9 to 0, Thursday cinched the high honors of the Northwest Conference. The Coyotes finished their schedule with a percentage of 1.000, having beaten Whitman and Pacific.

If the Loggers of Puget Sound pull through the Badger game with a win, Coach Hubbard's men will be tied with the Idaho school for first place. The Maroon and White have one game more on their list than the Coyotes have, so will have to fight more to get their 1.000 per cent. The Logger-Badger mix will be a hard fought game, as the Tacoma squad figures Pacific to be the toughest opponent of the season.

Whitman made it three losses in a row when Montana beat them at Missoula, 57 to 7. The Missionaries were outclassed by the Montana school, except when they scored their touchdown.

TUBERCULOSIS IS SUBJECT OF DR. DAVIES' ADDRESS

Member Of St. Helens Clinic Tells Disease Causes And Prevention

A very interesting and useful talk was given in chapel Monday morning when Dr. Josiah S. Davies of the St. Helens Clinic discussed the causes and methods of prevention of tuberculosis. In his talk Dr. Davies said that tuberculosis is caused by a small mass of diseased matter in the lungs and until recent years was regarded as fatal. With the progress in medical science means have been brought to light whereby the victims of this disease have at least a small chance of recovery. Over one hundred thousand people die each year with tuberculosis and one in every fourteen persons contract the disease to a certain extent. The underweight person is an easy victim to the "white plague."

Twenty years ago the Anti-Tuberculosis Association of America was formed. This organization has fought this disease in many ways, but especially by enlightening the public as to its causes and means of prevention. Since the foundation of this association, the death rate from tuberculosis has been decreased fifty per cent.

The only means this organization has of raising funds to carry on its fight, is by the sale of Christmas seals. Last year over five million dollars was raised in this way. As Dr. Davies said, when you see, or place a seal upon a letter remember the "It is a little messenger of hope to some unfortunate victim of this dread disease."

WEIR STRESSES INWARD POWERS

Speaks To Students In Chapel Friday

"I will put my laws in your inward parts." This was the text that Doctor Weir used in his speech in chapel last Friday morning. He said that man is born with selfishness and fear and it is his task to form these impulses into a well-rounded life. He must cease being conquered by outward forces and come under the influence of inward powers.

Doctor Weir made this statement "Democracy, like the kingdom of Heaven is within you." He went on to say that it would always be necessary to have laws for some people that do not have a democratic spirit. However, most persons use the law simply as guides. It is necessary welfare of this country that its citizens have a democratic spirit within them.

Health Commissioner Talks On Making the Most of Life

Dr. Layton, commissioner of health in the Tacoma city schools, spoke at the Y. W. C. A. meeting Tuesday, Nov. 16. He talked on "Making the Most of Life," by doing those things from which one receives the most permanent value.

The next Y. W. C. A. meeting will be held in the Little Chapel. It will be a Thanksgiving service.

FACULTY JUDGE

The faculty have been called upon quite often recently to act as judges in the state high school debates on the direct primary. Profs. Robbins, McMillan and Davis have gone to Eatonville, Profs. Henry, Martin and Davis to Fife, and Prof. Regester and Rev. Edgar Wheeler to Gig Harbor.

Others of the faculty will go to Kapowsin this coming Friday.

Prof. Topping In Charge At College; Logger Quota Is 500 Dollars

Wednesday's chapel period was devoted to the mobilization of the Puget Sound Community Chest army. Mr. Topping had charge and appointed as his captains, Sam Pugh, Dorothy Henry, and Erma Coffman. Those commissioned as lieutenants were, Winifred Longstretch, Douglas Hendel, Frederick Henry, Margaret Haley, Betty Totten, Robert Johnson, Crawford Turnbull, and Patricia Kane.

The quota for the College of Puget Sound this year is $500, of which the faculty has already subscribed $125. Mr. Topping said that he thought it unnecessary to make a speech, because of the "high degree of intelligence" of his audience.

MRS. BURNSIDE AWAY

Mrs. Winifred Burnside, assistant to the bursar is now visiting in on her vacation and is visiting in the East. She is visiting friends and relations in Chicago and De Kalb, Illinois and taking a side trip to the Beloit, Wisconsin College, one of the finest in the country.

Mrs. Hubert, secretary to Mr. Sprague, the Puget Sound field secretary, is filling Mrs. Burnside's place during her absence.

students and alumni. A charge of 15 cents will be made to cover expenses.

The auto parade will start from the campus directly after the luncheon in the gym. Every student is urged to decorate his car in maroon and white to advertise the game.

"Bounce the Badgers" is the cry that will be heard as the parade ends at the Stadium at 2:15 in time for the clash with the Pacific squad. The game Saturday afternoon is the climax of two day's celebration.

Alumni to Have Banquet

The alumni are planning a banquet for Saturday evening in the College Commons. Mr. Sprague has charge of the arrangements. This affair is for alumni only.

At 8 p. m., in the auditorium, three one-act plays will be presented by members of Prof. Holcomb's classes. Between acts, there will be stunts, yells, songs, and short talks by former students who were once prominent on the campus. The tickets for the Saturday plays are 25 cents and are being sold by the Spurs.

The committee, composed of Walter Anderson, Evalyn Miller, Winifred Gynn, Meredith Smith, Wendell Brown, Richmond Mace, Professor MacMillan and Crawford Turnbull, is confident that the celebration that is planned will be a success in every detail. The success, however, depends on the co-operation of the whole student body.

As Walt says: "Talk it up big so the whole city will know something is happening at the College of Puget Sound."

A THOUGHT FOR THANKSGIVING

With Thanksgiving only a few days off it might be well for us to pause in our daily lives and take inventory of the things for which we should be grateful.

The Pilgrims had very few of the opportunities and luxuries which we enjoy today. Yet they set aside one day of the year in which to thank God for sparing their lives and for giving them enough to eat. They were willing to brave the dangers of a wild, savage country, in order that they might worship God in their own way. They had to risk their lives to gain religious freedom.

Not very many years ago getting an education was a very expensive proposition and only a few rich men's sons were privileged to attend college. But now universities and colleges are maintained by the various states, by churches, and by individuals, all over the country, and in other parts of the world. A large part of the expense of running such an institution is born by the organization or individuals supporting that school. In this way a great many more students are enabled to attend because of the reasonable price of tuition.

But the tuition that the students pay to the institution does not begin to cover what it costs the school to teach them. According to a survey made by President Walter Dill Scott of Northwestern University, the average cost of educating a student in the grade schools is $60 a year; in high school something over $100; in college $400 and up. He found that the cost of education in various colleges and universities ranged from $376 a year to $1,052.

Figures taken from six representative institutions of the country show that the school had to add an average of about $280 a year to the tuition paid by the student, in order to cover the cost of his education. At the college of Puget Sound this sum is over $120 a year. Where does the money come from? Since this is not a state institution supported by taxation the money must come in the form of gifts from friends of the college. Just the other day a lady in Vancouver presented the school with $15,000.

Since the College of Puget Sound is maintained entirely by voluntary contributions its welfare depends on the generosity of its friends. Without them it would not exist. Through their efforts we enjoy the educational advantages offered at Puget Sound. We pay our tuition, a very reasonable one, but it does not go very far. Someone else must give of their wealth and energy, that we may have an education. LET US REMEMBER THIS AND BE THANKFUL!

GREET THE ALUMS!

There has been much said in these editorial columns about the "Hello Spirit." There is no better time to practice it than during Homecoming.

If we want the Alums to think this is their Alma Mater and that they are really one of us, then let's say "Hello" and shake hands with every alum we see on the campus, and show them a REAL WELCOME. Then they will want to visit their alma mater more often.

The Spirit of Puget Sound this year is greater than ever. The co-operation of the students in supporting college activities is splendid and there is a fine spirit of friendliness on the campus. Just extend this to the alumni who are back visiting their Alma Mater. Make them feel at home and glad they came.

Don't wait to see some old grad that you recognize. Greet them all. This is as much their Alma Mater as ours. Let's make this the best Homecoming they have ever seen.

SAY "HELLO," DAWGONNIT, SAY "HELLO."

THE COMING OF SPURS

Last week there appeared an announcement in The Trail stating that The Ladies of The Splinter had been accepted as a chapter of Spurs, national sophomore women's honorary. In our opinion this is one of the biggest steps forward our college has taken for some time. The association of The College of Puget Sound, a relatively small and unknown institution, with the larger schools which make up the other chapters of this organization must have only a beneficial effect upon our Alma Mater.

This is the third national that has come to our campus. Pi Kappa Delta and Theta Alpha Phi, national debate and dramatic honoraries, have been here for some time. Now that we have these three, others will come and The College of Puget Sound will soon be well represented in the nationals of the country.

Not all of the congratulations upon the arrival of Spurs should go to the college. A large share of it is due to the women who make up The Ladies of The Splinter. It is really because they are such an enthusiastic and active organization that they were chosen by the national. The members are taking part in a surprising number of activities, and this, no doubt, had a strong influence in the decision of giving the chapter to our Alma Mater.

Congratulations, Splinters!

A DITTO FROM THE PHOTOGRAPHER, CENTRAL.

A JOKE EDITOR, AND THEN QUIT AND DIED.

Prof. Battin was giving a lecture on the word, "can't." In the course of events he grew eloquent, and is said to have declared: There is no such word as can't. Some people say cows can't climb trees, but did you ever see one try?

The good die young. Ah, well; if they would die good, they must do it young.

"I'm running this," asserted Wendell Brown, starting the water for a laboratory experiment.

Well, Walt, in these athletic days, the three R's seem to be Root, Root, ROOT.

"Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes," sang a charming co-ed, and Mike answered, "But I don't wear glasses."

The most important of all the senses is the sense of duty.

RED LIPS PARTED, TEETH OF WHITE, WAIT ENCLOSED WITH HIS RIGHT, GLIMPSE OF HEAVEN'S ECSTASIES WHEN -----HE HAD TO SNEEZE.

Little Q. T. the office pest says, that the well digger is probably the only man who can succeed in life's work by beginning at the top.

Frosh:—"A Comedy of Errors." Soph—"As You Like It." Junior—"Much Ado About Nothing." Senior—"All's Well That Ends Well."

Little Ginger Snap, the office vamp, says that it isn't always wise to speak adversely of your college paper. It may be just vindictive enough to tell the truth about you.

Your car may be able to make seventy, but if you continue to drive it that fast, you'll never make seventy.

We have just heard of a fellow who said that it is dangerous to marry for love. We think he might have left off those last two words.

Little Ginger Snap, the office vamp says, that before a man's married he's a dude, after he's married, he's subdued; before marriage he has no buttons on his shirt; after he's married he has no shirt. Before marriage he swears he would not marry the best woman in the world; after marriage he finds out that he hasn't.

GOOD THOUGHT

Lawyer: "Courage my friend. You're going on a long journey. What are your last wishes." Condemned: "Get me a return ticket."

When we asked the editor what he thought would be a good ending for this column, he said, the waste basket.

"Do you think it is proper for a married man to kiss a single girl in the presence of his wife?" "It may be proper, but it's darn poor judgment."

Well, that settles it, we'll sign off for this week. But don't forget to meet us at the game tomorrow.

Have A Laugh On Us

Katherine Hammerly: I hear that a man's heart may be reached thru his stomach, a woman's by flattery.

Betty Totten: In other words, stuff them and they are yours.

Ernest Miller: I was hit on the head and knocked senseless once!

Bee Bemis: When do you expect to recover?

First co-ed: Bill wanted to kiss me sixteen times last night.

First co-ed: How do you know?

First co-ed: Because I counted them all.

Spigot: What shall I say about the two peroxide blondes that made such a fuss at the game?

Bob: Say that the bleachers went wild.

Miss Reneau: Define plural.

Mildred Hawksworth: Well, plural is the same as singular, only more of it.

Senator Davis: Are you chewing gum?

Amos Booth: Yes, sir.

Senator: That's nice, don't swallow it.

It happened in a class of United States history. The student was asked to state the main object of the Monroe Doctrine. "To keep civilization out of the United States," came the immediate response.

ARMISTICE DAY

Today we are to commemorate one of the civilized world's greatest holidays.

This day, which we choose to call Armistice Day, does not signify to us any longer the victory of the Yank over the Hun or one army over another. Far deeper significance is attached to that memorial event. It is the proof that right not might shall triumph when a worthwhile cause is involved. It is furthermore, the victory of civilization over savagery, the victory of education over military power, the victory of christianity over materialism.

Germany in her self-sufficiency forgot to whom the power was due —she did not fall in her tremendous plan for a world power, because a few khaki-clad men met her army face to face on the field of Chateau-Thierry, but because in her glory she forgot her Master and He removed His hand, the only true power.

In the Armistice, Germany not only put her seal on the orders of the Allies but she put her signature to the truth that "Without Me ye can do nothing."

INDIVIDUAL, AT LEAST

Snaps, flunks, units, barbs, rushes, blind dates, dorms, cinches, and such are included in the original vocabulary of the college man of today. Authorized and otherwise are the novel words and expressions which are used by the "educated minority" which are entirely foreign to the average intelligent citizen.

Referring to a recent visit to an American college campus, a prominent man stated that an interpreter was not only an asset to the visitor, but a necessity, if the visitor is not to be completely ostracized from all contact with the students. Many years having passed since his youth, he pondered over the question of the same condition existing in his day.

Which question we hasten to answer. It was assuredly the same in his age of higher learning. Since the advent of colleges, the members of the student bodies have been as individuals as they are today. As a class among themselves they may be identical, but as compared with the rest of the social groups they are decidedly distinctive.

They say that students should furnish interpreters for visitors to the college and in general "pan" them, but they would be vitally disappointed if "studes" did conform
